CLIDATA FORUM 2009

+

Let us invite you to CLIDATA FORUM 2009 which will take place in Prague (Czech Republic) in September 2009. The Forum is organized by company ATACO with cooperation of Czech Hydrometeorological Institute.

The main intention of the event is to inform you about new version of CLIDATA that has been released this year and it is called CLIDATA Acris. Over and above we want to encourage users share the experiences with using CLIDATA and discuss next movement in keeping climatological databases. We expect your activity and suggestion for further development of the CLIDATA database.

The program:

1. Workshop of CDMS
2. Experience and new technologies
3. Introducing CLIDATA Acris
4. Presentations of attendants
5. Excursion

The event is scheduled from 8th to 11th September 2009. We expect your arrival on Monday 7th September. The program is scheduled up to Friday 11th till 1 p.m.

The fee is: 485 EUR for person
450 EUR for second and another person from one country
365 EUR for person who uses benefits of CLIDATA Support package.

The fee includes access to all meetings, presentations and workshops.
The fee doesn't include accommodation, alimentation and travel costs.

We can arrange accommodation near the place where CLIDATA Forum takes place on your demand in three stars hotel. The price of the accommodation is about 80 EUR per night.
